

A complete guide to launch your own IDO Platform with Smart Contracts

Jun 24, 2021 · 5 min read

Launch your own IDO Platform

“The world is totally drifting towards the crypto space for exploring the benefits offered by the initial DEX offering to transform their business growth according to future trends. Many upcoming generations have started to step forward in learning how to ‘launch your own IDO platform’ to top the marketplace that has created a sensational hit by storming the internet in recent times. The IDO platform is gradually rising in the crypto market by generating revenue worth more than $250 billion by the start of January 2021. It is expected to rise even more by 15% by the end of 2021.”

The initial DEX offering development is becoming more popular in the real world, creating massive hype among millions of users in recent times. The IDO development platform is the new fundraising model that created heat in the crypto ecosystem. The efficient spark produced by IDO lit the way for upcoming investors and startups to make worthy investments for their business growth. The IDO model is recognized as the successor fundraising model compared to ICO, STO, and IEO. The IDO platform benefits the investors to gain high profits in the long run.

Initial DEX Offering (IDO)

What is the initial DEX offering (IDO)?

The initial DEX offering (IDO) is a token that represents any type of assets to be utilized on the decentralized exchange (DEX) platform. It benefits the investors and startups to use the IDO platform to launch new DEX projects to top the marketplace. The IDOs to be created for any digital asset from music albums to artwork to reap profits in less time. The IDO tokens have lots to offer the global users with instant liquidity, immediate trading, and less cost for listing services. The decentralized liquidity exchange is considered a type of crypto exchange that depends on liquidity pools for traders to swap tokens.

What are the various fundraising models present in the real world?

IDO :

Initial DEX offering (IDO) is the new concept of fundraising mechanism that is entirely decentralized and supports crypto exchanges to benefit the investors from raising funds for their business growth. It generates immediate liquidity and trading on any DEX to attract users. It helps the investors by offering an exchange with an unlimited token stack.

IEO :

Initial exchange offering (IEO) is an excellent fundraising method in the blockchain world that lured millions of users' attention in less time. The IEO runs on a centralized platform that supports crypto exchanges to benefit users from purchasing at the best price value. It is highly secured for transactions and also prone to risks such as theft.

ICO :

Initial coin offering (ICO) is currently trending and considered the best fundraising model by issuing utility tokens/coins in the blockchain platform. It is entirely decentralized and overtakes traditional finance systems like banks. It benefits the investors with high liquidity after the launch of CEX.

STO :

Security token offering (STO) has great value and demand in the crypto market since it is the best fundraising concept for investors to generate profits in less time. The STO tokens are utilized to raise funds for their projects or make a public offering for their company shares. It has passed the Howey Test and is highly secured for seamless transactions to benefit the users.

What are the efficient benefits offered in the IDO platform?

Investors can earn high ROI as passive income from the IDO platform to increase their business revenue.

It maintains high transparency over user transaction details in the IDO development platform to gain their trust.

The IDO platform has integrated multi-level security protocols like 2-Factor authentication, HTTP authentication, and end-to-end encryption to prevent various hacks.

It has integrated Distributed Ledger Technology (DLT) present in the IDO platform for issuing and creating new tokens.

The IDO platform is entirely decentralized and eliminates the need for intermediaries to benefit the users with less gas fee, wait time, and faster transaction speed.

It is highly scalable, flexible, and customizable for investors to make changes based on user requirements or future trends.

Is IDO the best option for Startups?

Is IDO the best option to make investments for startups?

The initial DEX offering platform is a promising future for upcoming startups and investors to explore the benefits offered for their business growth. IDOs' fundraising concept plays a significant role in the real world, enabling investors to utilize their collateral assets like equity, shares, and bonds to raise funds for their business projects or products. The launch of IDO in the market created a huge hype among global users for its efficiency to perform better than centralized finance systems. The IDO platform is highly efficient and benefits from keeping the user engaged round the clock to experience safe trading with faster transactions.

What are the attractive features present in the IDO platform?

Instant Liquidity - Seamless Trading - Automated Market Making - Low-Cost Listing - Supports - all fundraising activities - High-Level Security Protocols - Integrated Distributed Public Ledger - Integrated APIs - Highly Scalable & Customizable - Secured Listing

How to build an IDO platform cost-effectively?

Ideation :

Create an innovative strategy based on user needs and stay updated with current trends to build the decentralized trade network.

White Paper :

Investors can present a detailed view of the project or product to attract the users and take the business to the next level.

IDO Token Launch :

Step forward in knowing how to build an IDO platform from scratch by hiring professional experts to develop a world-class fundraising model.

Utility Services :

Increase the token value by offering utilities to use the token in the market to generate high liquidity for investors.

Governance Tokens :

It is highly efficient in identifying tokens to benefit the users from growing further and connecting the platform.

Service :

Robust services are offered in building the IDO platform using blockchain technology to increase the worth of investors' business in the marketplace.

Summing Up :

The initial DEX offering development is the most discussed topic among global users for its efficiency to benefit them with seamless trade and faster transactions to reap profits with less investments. Investors can connect with any blockchain company with professional experience in developing a featured IDO platform using the latest cutting-edge technology at an affordable price to top the blockchain market in less time.